The Coat of Arms of the Diocese of Yakima

The two-edged sword signifies both the Apostle Paul, preacher of The Word, and the Diocese of Yakima’s Cathedral Church which is named after him. The bar with wavy edges represents the Colombia River. The two tepees on either side of this river symbolize the Native Americans who originally inhabited this region and whose name, “Yakama” – based on the Spokane Indian word Neeneeyakema, meaning neutrality – led to the name of the city of Yakima and, thus, the Diocese of Yakima.
The Diocese of Yakima consists of the seven counties of Central Washington State comprising 18,000 square miles and approximately 640,000 in population.

A Brief History of the Diocese of Yakima

The Roman Catholic Diocese of Yakima is a diocese of the Roman Catholic Church in the central region of the state of Washington in the U.S. Headquartered in Yakima, the diocese comprises Benton, Chelan, Douglas, Grant, Kittitas, Klickitat and Yakima Counties. The diocesan cathedral is St. Paul Cathedral, and the diocesan bishop is Most Rev. Joseph J. Tyson.

The diocese was canonically erected on June 23, 1951 by Pope Pius XII. Its territory was taken from the territory of the Dioceses of Seattle (which was concurrently elevated to an archdiocese) and Spokane. The diocese currently has 41 parishes and 7 Catholic schools.

The Gospel was brought to the Yakama in 1847 by Fathers Charles Pandosy, Casimir Chirouse, George Blanchet and Father Richard at the request of Chief Owhi. The St. Joseph Mission at the Ahtanum was not established until 1852, but this Mission is on the lands of Chief Kamiakin who asked the priests to come to this group of Yakama. These French priests, Oblates of Mary Immaculate, were some of the first non-Indians to reside in the Yakima Valley. “In order to establish a Church in the Pacific Northwest Bishop George Blanchet realized financial support was imperative to success of this new mission. His dedication and efforts for the needed resources to bring the Church to life were not in vain when he set out on a quest and visited Mexico City on March 9, 1851. Bishop Blanchet appealed to the religious communities and dioceses in Mexico for support, the community responded generously. When Bishop Blanchet returned from his quest 21 months later on December 18, 1852, he raised nearly $33,000 along with sufficient liturgical goods and materials for the new Church in Yakama.” (Abundance of Grace, 2000, p. 24 & 25). The little Mission, fifth of five Missions established by the Oblates, was the first church in the Ahtanum area. Originally 677 acres, the Mission site fronted a small creek and was where most of the agricultural activities were established and maintained. From the Oblates the Indians learned the art of making the soil produce much of the necessities for human consumption. The priests remained at the Mission, teaching and baptizing, until November 1855 when the local Indian wars took their toll on the Mission. Following the battle at Union Gap, the U.S. Army moved on to the Ahtanum were idle Army volunteers found the Mission temporarily unattended. While some of the soldiers dug for cabbages and potatoes in the Mission garden, they found a half keg of gun powder buried by one of the priests. A wild cry arose that Father Pandosy was furnishing powder to the Indians. Soldiers set fire to the Mission buildings, which burned to the ground before the officers in camp became aware of the plunder. Later the U.S. government cleared Pandosy and sent a formal apology. Seminarian Handbook 2019-2020
The Mission site was abandoned until September 1867 when Father L. N. St. Onge, with the help of lay missionary J. B. Boulet, built the hand-hewed log church and rectory that remain standing today. They planted the first orchard in the Yakima Valley on the Mission grounds with cuttings they brought from a farm in The Dalles, Oregon. Some of the old apple trees still produce bountiful fruit at the Mission site today. In October 1870 Father Joseph Caruanna, S.J. joined the Oblates in residence at the Mission. The Mission church was dedicated on July 15, 1871, after which Father St. Onge formally turned the Mission over to Father Caruanna and the Society of Jesus at the request of Bishop Augustine Blanchet of the Diocese of Nesqually. Father Caruanna was the superior of a Jesuit novitiate at the Mission. The Jesuits grew wheat and vegetables and raised cattle, pigs, and horses at this completely self-sufficient Mission. Despite the fact that the predominantly Catholic Yakamas controlled Central Washington, a new U.S. government policy under President Ulysses Grant gave the Yakama Reservation to exclusive Methodist domain. This so-called Grant’s Peace Policy prohibited priests from stepping foot onto reservation land. Nevertheless, the seeds of Catholic faith sown at Saint Joseph Mission would yield a great harvest in the subsequent evangelization of Central Washington.
